What Do You Want to Be When You Grow Up?

University of Regina: Take advantage of openings in our bilingual program in nursing. La Cité universitaire francophone has extended the application deadline into our bilingual nursing program until June 30, 2022. Please visit the following link for program details and application forms: <https://www.sasknursingdegree.ca/scbscn/#apply>. If you are interested or would like to receive more information, please contact us by email (Recrutement.Cite@uregina.ca) as soon as possible. We will provide support to help you register in the program before the end of June. This is a four-year degree program (50 percent in French and 50 percent in English) that is designed to train future nurses who will be able to provide health services in both English and French. In addition to avoiding waiting lists, students will benefit from many opportunities such as subsidized housing in our residence, scholarships, and other services and resources in French.
